Custom Kintsugi wallcoverings add an interesting art and architectural element to the main dining room, while rice-paper lighting by Spanish Designer Jaime Hayon, used en masse, creates an artistic installation. A showpiece in Commons Club is The Bar, with its the ellipse-shaped marble-topped bar with custom brass canopy. The Bar features a mix of rotating DJ's and curated entertainment and offers a cocktail program rooted in the classics. Adjacent to The Bar is The Shag Room, a '70s-inspired space with winding serpentine ruched banquette and smoked mirror walls ideal for cocktails or an intimate reception. The indoor rooftop bar conveys a moody vibe with a mix of marble furnishings, hits of luxe brass, terrazzo flooring, and a dramatic bar topped with black steel showcasing a glass vitrine laden with various plants.

The outdoor social setting, amidst greenery and trees with hanging Moroccan lanterns, is an easygoing atmosphere that includes a ping pong table that doubles as a communal table, tree swing, fire pit and red spin chairs. A secret garden covered in vines can be accessed through a custom-designed gate illustrating Texas clichés to find a hanging chair, hot tub and a pierced steel illuminating bar.
